Centennial Olympic Park Will Not Host July 4th Celebration in 2020

(ATLANTA, June 25, 2020) – Georgia World Congress Center Authority (GWCCA) today announced that it will forgo hosting its annual July 4th celebration at Centennial Olympic Park as Atlanta and the nation continue to take the necessary precautions to slow and stop the spread of COVID-19.

“For the past 22 years, we have proudly hosted the Southeast’s biggest and best Fourth of July fireworks show,” shared Frank Poe, GWCCA’s executive director. “The financial impact of COVID-19 resulted in the tough decision to cancel this year’s event. Watching fireworks in Centennial Olympic Park is an Atlanta tradition and we look forward to continuing that in 2021.”
