

CENTENNIAL OLYMPIC PARK TO REMAIN CLOSED INDEFINITELY

(ATLANTA, JULY 6, 2020) – Georgia World Congress Center Authority (GWCCA) today announced that, due to the ongoing financial impacts of COVID-19, Centennial Olympic Park will remain closed to the public indefinitely.

“The financial ramifications stemming from this global pandemic have hit the hospitality industry, including Georgia World Congress Center Authority, especially hard,” said Frank Poe, GWCCA’s executive director. “The Park relies on operating support from GWCC and without event activities on our campus the costs associated with maintaining public access to the Park is not feasible. We will focus our resources on preserving the green space and landscape in anticipation of daily use sometime in the future.”
